

5 Written questions

1. An appealing and meaningful arrangement of performers on the stage.

_____

2. Actors to wait before entering a scene

Set pieces for the show

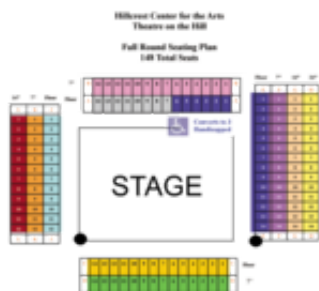

Storage

_____

3. The area where the players (actors) perform; usually a raised platform.

_____

4.

The playing area is surrounded by audience seating on all sides.

_____

5. The actual head height of the actor as determined by his or her body position.

_____

5 Matching questions

1.  Actor

a is also called the "house" and "out front".

2.  Blocking

b Performer that can refer to males or females.

3.  Grand drape

c Any stage not classified as proscenium, arena, or thrust.

4.  Flexible staging

d

The draperies covering the proscenium opening (picture frame), separating the audience from the stage.

5.  Audience

e

Planning and working out the movements and stage grouping for a play.

5 Multiple choice questions

---

1.

A bare-bones stage of various seating types.

- a. Actress
  - b. Black Box Theatre
  - c. Traverse Theatre
  - d. Stage picture
2. Performer that is only used for females.
- a. Apron
  - b. Actress
  - c. Actor
  - d. Levels
3. Offstage spaces to the sides of acting area.
- a. Levels
  - b. Stage
  - c. Wings
  - d. Apron
4. refers to the number of people in the audience or the amount of money made from admission sales.
- a. Levels
  - b. The House
  - c. Wings
  - d. Stage picture

5.

The playing area is in the center of a large open space which usually seats thousands of people.

- a. Thrust Stage
- b. Grand drape
- c. Arena /Stadium
- d. Stage

4 True/False questions

---

1. Apron → Performer that can refer to males or females.

True    False

2. Thrust Stage →

The playing area protrudes out into the house with the audience seating on more than one side.

True    False

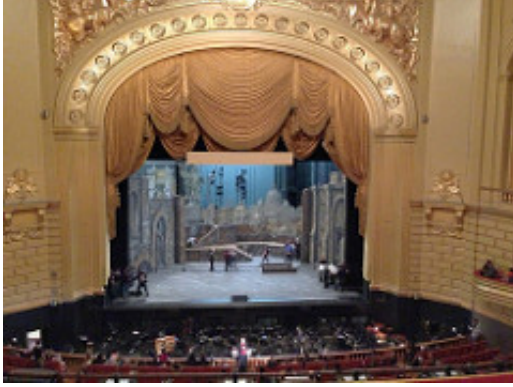

3. Traverse Theatre →

A bare-bones stage of various seating types.

True    False

4. Proscenium Stage →

The audience directly faces the playing area which is separated by a portal called the proscenium arch.

True    False